

Feeding the 5000

Listen to the story of Jesus feeding the 5000 people.

After You Listen:

Jesus had compassion for people.

He felt sad when they were sick, and he healed them.

When they were worried in the boat in the middle of the storm, he calmed the storm.

When they were hungry, he fed them.

What does it mean to have compassion? It means to want to help someone who is hurting or in distress.

When Jesus saw that the crowd was hungry, he didn't just feel bad for them. He took action to help them.

He received the simple gift the boy gave and miraculously turned those small loaves and fish into enough food for thousands – nothing is too hard for God!

The little boy chose to share his lunch, in fact, to give it all to Jesus – and Jesus multiplied it to feed 5000 people – with enough to have 12 baskets left over!

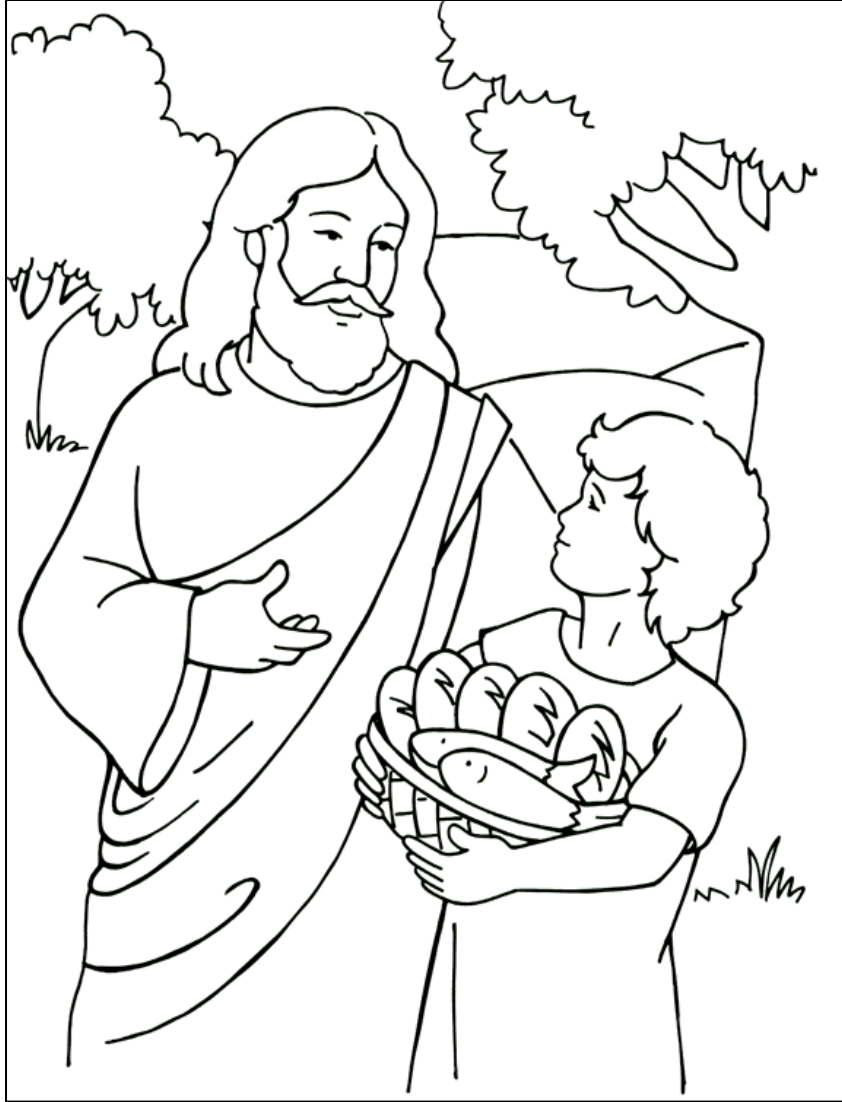

The Jengana teams see many children who are hungry – that's why Jengana funds a feeding programme in a primary school in Mukuru so that each child – about 250 of them – gets a cup of ugi (a porridge drink) each day.

We should be willing to share – even if what we have is small.

Think of ways that you could share with others – at school or at home.

Feeding the 5000

The people were thankful that the boy shared his lunch.

What food did the boy have?

How many baskets were left over?

Think of 3 ways you can be compassionate this week:

- 1.
- 2.
- 3.

Give all your worries and cares to God, for He cares for you.
